FACTS:

1. I am the practitioner responsible for the prosecution of this application.
2. I and the firm first discovered, through a routine check of the PAIR system on January 31, 2010, the existence of a Notification of Missing Requirements showing a mailing date 03/24/2006 (the "Notification"), and a Notice of Abandonment showing a mailing date 11/26/2007 (the "Notice"). Copies of the Notification and the Notice, printed from the PAIR electronic file wrapper on January 31, 2010, are attached as Exhibits A and B hereto, respectively.
3. Neither was received by me or the firm before their discovery through PAIR, although each bears on its first page the correct firm's address at the time. We were not previously aware of either the Notification or the Notice.
4. I have checked all records kept by me and the firm for this patent application, and confirm that none show receipt by me or anyone in the firm of the Notification or the Notice before their discovery through PAIR, or previous awareness of either.

Specifically:

- a. The file that we maintain for this application does not contain a copy of either the Notification or the Notice, or any indication or entry that either was received;
- b. The complete docket record for this application maintained in the firm's computerized docketing system also does not show or indicate receipt of either the Notification or the Notice. A printout of that docket record in its entirety is attached hereto as Exhibit C, and shows that the application was filed on 6/18/2004 (international filing date of PCT/US04/19488, of which this application is a national stage application assigned U.S. Ser. No. 10/560200), and an IDS was mailed to the PTO on 4/6/2007. However, the docketing record printout does not show receipt of either the Notification or the Notice. If either had been received, the attached docket record printout would show the receipt of such Notification and/or Notice;

- c. Over the pertinent time period, the firm continuously maintained a computerized docketing system, designed to be reliable, in which is recorded receipt of Office Actions and other communications from the Patent Office. Had either of the Notification and Notice been received, the firm' docketing system would have recorded such receipt. However, there is no record or indication of their receipt prior to their discovery through the PAIR system on January 31, 2010.
5. I and the firm never intended to abandon this application, and have never received instructions from the inventors of the assignee to abandon it.
6. The sole reason for the abandonment is that neither I nor the firm received the Notification or the Notice and only became aware of them through a routine check of the PAIR system on January 31, 2010, whereupon we immediately investigated our records, sought to secure the inventors' signature on the Declaration and Power of Attorney in order to respond to the Notification, and commenced preparation of this Petition.

CONCLUSION:

Based on the facts stated above, applicants respectfully request that the holding of abandonment be withdrawn and the application be forwarded for issuance of a new Notification and examination on the merits.

Respectfully submitted,

Ivan S. Kavrukov, Reg. No. 25,161
